Product Description

Coloretto, card game, for 2 to 5 players, 8 years and older

For 10 years Coloretto has inspired players all over the world. Whether with family, friends or when traveling, Coloretto is a game for every occasion. Like a chameleon, Coloretto allows you to change your favorite color once in a while. But if you collect too many colors, you won't really get anywhere and you might even get minus points. The players together fill up a display in the middle of the table with cards from the deck. When it's a player's turn, he or she can choose whether to continue filling up the display or whether to take cards from the display and fold. The players try to specialize in some colors, because according to the "Coloretto principle", the more cards of one color you have, the more points you get. But beware! The minus points for unwanted colors are also awarded in the same way. And the fact that you get them is already ensured by the skillful "templates" of the other players!
