Product Description

Decrypto, card game (DE), for 3-8 players, ages 12+

Information is everything. Each side wants it, each side wants to prevent the other from having it. Therefore we communicate in codes and encrypt our messages so that only our side understands them. In Decrypto, two teams of 2 to 4 players each compete against each other to find out who the best encryption artists are.

They always take turns trying to transmit codes to their own team members. Your own team must understand this without the opposing team being able to decipher it. But the other side is listening and will try to intercept the messages. Which side succeeds in cracking the code words first? Find out in this novel communication game.
