Product Description

Through the Ages: German edition, card game, for 2-4 players, ages 14+

Now is your chance: Your tribe is small, but your will is strong. Will you master the long road to a great civilization? Cultivate your fields, develop new mines and thus gain resources for the construction of your city. Initiate a time of progress that will lead your people to unknown technologies, great miracles, and new forms of government.

Shape your story with a tough military hand or diplomatic skill to expand your influence. But choose your leaders wisely! An efficient economy, advanced technology, satisfied citizens, an inspired government, a strong military? Your civilization has to assert itself in many areas. Even if your people should lead in some areas, it is always the weaknesses of a civilization that let them be forgotten.

Adapt your strategy to the circumstances and always keep your eyes on your limits, so that you do not offer your rivals any doubts. But be aware that the success of a civilization is measured by other things: It is the most influential culture that will ultimately prevail.
