Das Farbmonster - The Game, Board Game (De Edition)

The children's book Das Farbmonster explains the world of feelings to young children using colours. The little monster's feelings are mixed up and the little girl helps him sort them out again. In the cooperative children's game of the same name, the children have to help the monster to sort the feelings correctly. In doing so, they tell about situations in which they have already had the emotion they are looking for. The instructions contain tips and suggestions for educational use.
