Product Description

Foam Tray Set for Warhammer Underworlds: Nightvault, Core Game Box

Welcome back to Shadespire! The new season will once again feature new warbands that will fight fierce battles in the streets of the Mirrored City. This time, strength and weapons alone won't be enough when the warrior-mages of the Stormcast Eternals meet the undead warriors of the Briar Queen. The new repertoire of your fighters now includes magical elements.

Order and protection for miniatures and game material do not require magic. With this foam tray set for the Nightvault core game box, you can do this without spells and ceremonial staves.

The mat fits exactly into the 'Warhammer Underworlds: Nightvault' box. With a total of 15 compartments it ensures overview and safety for figures, cards, dice and tokens.

10 compartments are reserved for the models. The Briar Queen and her following (The Ever-Hanged, Varclav the Cruel and the four Chainrasps) are assigned 7 individually tailored compartments. Knight-Incantor Averon Stormsire, Rastus the Charmed and Ammis Dawnguard also lie in tailor-made compartments.

The separate storage of the figures does not only have tactical reasons. From now on you can simply put the box in your bag without having to worry about the figures. They won't slip around, collide with each other and sensitive parts will stay unharmed. Flaked or scratched acrylic paints are also a thing of the past.

The game material is also clearly stored here. There are 2 compartments for the objective, power and character cards. These are provided with a finger-wide cut-out so that you can get the cards out more easily. Of course, they also fit in here with sleeves.

Dice and tokens can be sorted into the remaining compartment.

The suitable foam topper ensures a secure all-round package. Game boards and Rulebook can be placed upon it.

This way everything is neatly and securely stowed away and you are always ready for the next skirmish between the ghostly warriors of the Nighthaunt and Sigmar's Stormcast Eternals.

Attention! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
