Product Description

Organizer for Caverna: The Cave Builders, Board Game Box

To be the head of an uprising dwarf family, you need a long beard and lots of brains. To prevent your fellow players and you from becoming angry dwarves, we have taken over the organization on the gaming table while you focus on expanding your family.

With over 800 game parts, you can quickly get lost. In order to find a solution, we pulled at our beards and thought about how we can tame the chaos.

The result is this Feldherr Organizer Set made of sturdy plastic - well thought-out and tailor-made for the core game, which not only creates order on the gaming table, but also soothes the angry dwarf inside you.

The practical token holders come directly from the box onto the game board and let the dwarf inside you enjoy the game in a relaxed manner.

- The organizer offers space for all game components from the "Caverna - The Cave Builders" basic game by Lookout Games.
- The 16 game boards, the scoring pad, the rule book and the appendix are stored in the box separately.
- All cards also fit with sleeves into the card holder.
- No assembly required. Thanks to the token and card holders, you have everything at hand quickly.

You've had enough of the constant searching for the red and black ore gems in the pile of wooden tokens? You want to enjoy a fast game with your friends and not go digging just to find the right components?

Whether animal-, building material- or product tokens, with our organizer set every part finds its place. At the beginning simply pack the plastic trays out of the box and put them on the table. No more fruitless searching, and you can finally concentrate on the essentials: Lead your family to the top and show the other clans who has the longest beard, or optionally the most gold.

Hereby, all game elements are sorted and now it's just a matter opening the lid and take them out. Designed as a perfect gaming solution, you can quickly take the elements out of the box, place them on the gaming table and you are ready to play in no time at all.

As with all 3D-printed models, minor imperfections may occur. The product images are only examples of how the finished product may look. Colors may vary. All products are delivered unpainted.
