Product Description

Arkham Noir - Fall 2: Vom Donner gerufen - card game (DE), for 1 player, ages 14+

Randolph Carter is sitting across from you in your office: We are investigating the creeping death that plagued the locals - poor settlers whose ancestors came as colonists from the Netherlands and claimed this land. Typer put me on this case and now there's no trace of him. Well, things got a little out of hand. Could you maybe close this case for me? You have to think about your overdue rent and with a sigh you accept his offer to go into the Catskills and poke around a little. Take an umbrella, he advises. It is often thunderstorm there.

Arkham Noir is a solo game inspired by the coherent narratives of H. P. Lovecraft and other authors and redesigned as a noir story. Each case can be played independently. In Called by Thunder, Howard Lovecraft examines events based on the stories The Lurking Fear (1923) and The Diary of Alonzo Typer (1938).

In the game, you place clue cards on open cases and create investigative series around the Eventually clearing up cases. The goal is to collect 5 puzzle cards to see the bigger picture before time runs out or goes insane. Each new game is the beginning of a unique challenge, the difficulty of which can be individually adjusted.
