On the road with a famous Viking! Players follow in the footsteps of Erik the Red in this adventure game. The team of 1-6 people starts in the year 1000 on a journey that takes them from Iceland, via Greenland, to America.

Quickly read the two rule cards and everyone starts off together on an adventure into the unknown! Some cards show places they will pass, other cards present them with decisions. Which path is the right one in this card game? As the story develops with each card, the players get closer and closer to one of the five possible endings. Off to the adventure!
