Product Description

Arcade blue & yellow dice set (7 pieces)

Q WORKSHOP proudly presents the Arcade Dice Set - our homage to the days when boys and girls started exploring dungeons and defeating dragons on sturdy bikes. This set pays homage to the decade when it all began and was fresh as new. There is the same power and magic in this set as in the adventures in the worlds of the first fantasy role-playing games.

Q WORKSHOP proudly presents the Arcade Dice Set - our homage to the time when boys and girls began exploring dungeons and defeating dragons on sturdy bicycles. The arcade was the sacred place for all gamers - a place of encounters, duels and bonding. Many made friends there for life. This set is a tribute to the decade when it all started and was as fresh as new. There is the same power and magic in this set as in the adventures set in the worlds of the first fantasy role-playing games. It doesn't matter if you played the Barbarian, the Plumber or the Master of the Universe. This shiny blue dice set is our call of the game, the trigger of the time of fun that can steal many hours from your life like a rogue, but gives a chance for unique experiences and joy. It is a true royal gift for all players, even the colour is bright yellow like the royal crown. The intricate engravings are stylised as garlands on the arcade case. Even the elegant box looks like one. This is your round for the game "Knight of the Arcade", with your best friends and other children (or adults with charming hearts and a lively inner child) who can be your future best friends.

The Arcade Dice Set - it may look nostalgic, but these dice can't be more current and are the best for all modern games. This is not a commemorative dice set. Yes, we like vintage style and since there was no Q WORKSHOP in the eighties, we missed out on much of the appeal of the early years of roleplaying. In truth, we're not crying over spilt milk, we're letting bygones be bygones! Instead, we make useful play tools (and not knick-knacks). So you could say that beauty is in the eye of the beholder, but even a beholder has to admit that a hero with our dice is more dangerous than any other random dungeon dweller. These dice are made for breaking records, counting monsters, slaying dragons and winning gold. Silver and Bronze are for your younger players taking their first steps into RPGs. So call the gang and let's go on an adventure! The world of the best games in the known universe awaits.

Caution! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
