Product Description

Elven Black and Glow in the Dark Dice Set (7 pieces)

After the victorious attack on the Dark Elf Empire, our Emperor decided to sell on the goods and treasures of the Dark Elves to anyone in need. That's how these wonderful dice came to our market... We take no responsibility for black magic discharges and any curses the dice may cause.

These dice are so beautiful that we should write this description in Quenya. This language was a symbol of the high status of the Elves, the firstborn of the races of Middle Earth. It is Elvish Latin, the language of the noblest race of all. The declining use of this language has also become a symbol of the slow decline of Elvish culture in J.R.R. Tolkien's universe. But as a wise Elf once said, "Á harya indo máralessë", and we follow him. Our cubes are a symbol of hope for the elves, because we have been improving them since the beginning of Q WORKSHOP's history. Every year there are new colours and new improvements in our production technology, design and lifetime painting. All to make the dice worthy of Galadriel's attention. The elvish sets are our most precious creation. We are proud of them and humbly believe that this will be our support for the renewal of elven glory and invite them back into our world.

Made from the finest material and decorated with carved elven lettering and numerals, these dice are prime sets for all role-playing and tabletop games. Elven sets fit all elven, half-elf, dark-elf and forest-elf characters and even the "Elven Elvis" will be pleased with them.

This set of wonderful elvish dice will become the inseparable companion of every player in whose veins even a little noble elven blood flows or in whose heart a little elven light burns. But real magic only works if it is tailored to a specific purpose. Spells cannot be cast without thought. You must choose the colour wisely, for all elven heritage needs wisdom to be used. You should be quicker than Ents, but true wisdom is worth more than any gold or treasure, when you choose your colour you determine your character personality. These dice are in the best elven tradition of design, made for wise people. You must honour the Eldar. Do not underestimate these words!

Elven Black & Glow-in-the-Dark Dice Set - We wrote only "môr ar lúsina" and sailed away in our dreams across Elven Land, where even the smallest black pebble glows in the warm light of the Creator, like the Eye of Sauron or the moss of the deep cave of Moria. We designed these dice for all serious gaming sessions, where a haunting, faint glow illuminates all dice rolls in the darkness that naturally comes from the East. It's no fun not seeing your critical hit roll. Glowing elf dice are your guide in this time of need, when the Great Adversary overshadows your character arc with his vicious lack of proper light.

Caution! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
