Product Description

In the Name of the People is a crime series inspired by true crime cases. In In the Name of the People, you are the jury and you decide the verdict. Jury cards guide you through the case. In the course of the game, you will receive further information and clues to solve the case via investigation envelopes. In the final vote, you must decide whether the accused person is guilty or not guilty.

In In the Name of the People - Case 2: The Hellish Ferryman, a corpse and 32 orchid flowers are found. Was it a cold-blooded murder or a short-circuit act? The cases can also serve as the basis for a mystery dinner or be played in pairs over several days.
