Product Description

Delivery van and microbus produced 1961-1991 in the former GDR. The only car of this class produced in East Germany. Barkas cars were mainly operated in East Germany. The SMH 3 version is an ambulance with a new plastic body and a raised roof. It has been in production since 1983.

You create a Barkas ambulance version from a series of COBI building blocks with up to 157 elements. The model has been faithfully reproduced in 1:35 scale. The set was completely waived with stickers. The blocks have been covered with high-quality prints that will not wear out even during intensive play. The set has a well thought-out compact design and movable wheels.

The model made of COBI building blocks will not only be a toy in the children's room, but will also contribute to the interest in the history of the automobile. It will certainly help to develop children's motor skills and improve construction skills. For adult fans of blocks, it will be a beautiful model of a historic vehicle and perhaps the start of a future collection.
