Product Description

In the entertaining set collection game In the Ways of Darwin, you play junior explorers who have just boarded the Beagle to help Charles Darwin complete his book On the Origin of Species. On this journey, you will study animals, conduct cartographic surveys, publish your discoveries and create theories. Whoever has more victory points than the others at the end of the game has contributed the most to "On the Origin of Species" and wins!

On the Paths of Darwin impresses with a clever selection mechanism, elegant game flow and fantastic artwork, while offering exciting decisions to keep you enthralled for many games.
