Product Description

Beginner's set for painting with an airbrush: Revell offers a suitable airbrush beginner's set for all those who want to paint with an airbrush themselves. It is very difficult to paint large model surfaces with a brush. It is easier with a spray gun. The new starter class spray gun with improved design is the ideal introduction to the technique of airbrushing. The paint container can now be separated from the handle by an Easy Click System, which makes handling the gun much easier. In addition, the new ergonomic design makes airbrushing particularly easy.

In addition to basic equipment for getting started with painting, this set also contains the materials and instructions for perfect mixing of the popular Aqua Color colours for airbrushing. As these acrylic paints are mild-smelling and water-thinnable, first airbrush attempts are particularly uncomplicated. The spray gun can be easily cleaned with water after use. So if you want to perfect your model building results and are looking for an inexpensive introduction to the painting technique, this set is just right for you.
