Product Description

Adrenalin, Board Game, for 2-6 Players, from 12 Years

The future ? A war has left the world completely destroyed and divided the people into factions. These factions have decided to end the never ending war in the arena. A new virtual blood sport was created: The Adrenaline Tournament. Each faction has a champion and each champion has the chance to fight and the chance to win. Will you take the chance to become the next champion in the Adrenaline Tournament?

In Adrenaline, each player embodies an Arena Fighter, who equips himself with weapons and bonus items lying around. Then it's time to shoot the shit out of them!

If you get thrown out of the arena, you'll reboot right back into the middle of the action. On the other hand, if you only get shot, you'll get an adrenaline rush to improve your standard actions. All players perform two actions in a row and chase each other around the arena until a shot is fired to score. At the end of the game, the player with the most points wins, and everyone loves each other again... at least until the next match.
