Product Description

Takara Island, Board Game, for 2-4 Players, from 8 Years

There is a legend that tells of two indescribably precious stones that are said to have been buried in the deep Takara. Lured by this legend, you decide to put together a team to brave all the dangers. With every blow of the hoes, tunnel collapses can hinder your digging and you will have to fight the local monsters to continue your expedition. Your daring will be rewarded with riches and treasures and you will soon be known throughout the island. If you manage to find the two legendary stones alone, eternal life awaits you. Otherwise, only the player with the most experience points can win.
