Product Description

Foam Tray Set for Warhammer Underworlds: Shadespire, Core Game Box

Welcome to Shadespire! Once a flourishing mercantile metropolis, today nothing more than a nightmarish ruin in the Realm of Death. Their rulers defied death with the shadeglass and thus conjured up the wrath of Nagash, the Supreme Lord of Undeath. He then drew light and splendour from the city and banished every soul within the Mirrored City to an eternity between Ulgu, the Realm of Shadows and Hysh, the Realm of Light. But not everyone submits to this fate without a fight.

The core box for Warhammer Underworlds: Shadespire comes with everything you and your fellow players will need for an action-packed combat game. Even if the figures are not made of fragile shadeglass, they should still be packed safely. Especially for those who invest a lot of time and money in painting those beautiful detailed miniatures, it is particularly annoying when the paint flakes off. In order to prevent such things, or to protect sensitive parts, such as swords or axes, from bending, secure storage is advisable.

With our Feldherr foam tray set for the original Warhammer Underworlds: Shadespire core box your miniatures are padded softly. The set consists of a foam tray that fits exactly into the original game box. With the included matching foam topper the miniatures are protected from top to bottom. We do only use colour-friendly, chlorine- and acid-free foam as material.

The foam tray is divided into 14 compartments, exactly tailored to the game material. Eight of them provide a safe haven for the three warriors of the Stormcast Eternals, as well as the five Khorne Bloodbound miniatures.

Two additional compartments serve as storage for the two decks of power and objective cards. Which will fit with sleeve as well of course. Three compartments for the tokens, supplemented by one for the dice, help to arrange the game components. The rule book and quick-start sheet can be placed on the foam topper. Everything is neatly and safely stowed away. And you're always ready to play.

Attention! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
