Product Description

Theater - 70 Components

The puppet theater with its character concept is now one of the oldest displays of the performing arts. Both as shadow and finger theater, this small-format representation serves not only to present fairy-tale, mystical and symbolized characters, but also as an anecdotal narrative in the form of magnificent stories. In addition to a dragon, the king, the princess and the evil witch, the UGEARS theatre thus even the funny juggler is not missing.

The puppet theater, which is part of the fairytale ambience, is much more than that and can be compared to a small mechanical theater. Rather, the UGEARS models are high-quality kits made from wood. With a total of 70 pre-cut components, the result is a small work of art, which is able to skillfully combine detailed gear mechanisms and small curiosities. The overall concept of the semi-open design, which can be assigned to steampunk, is more like a modern fairy tale in the context of an old backdrop. The kit also offers secrets, such as a treasure chest that is hidden behind the mechanics. The Puppet theater is thus much more than it might appear at first glance.
