Product Description

Ausgerechnet Buxtehude (new design) - card game (DE), for 2-6 players, ages 10+

The popular game in a new look! A geography game with bluff for the whole family that teaches knowledge in a playful way. Is Buxtehude to the west or east of Hamburg? And where is Kassel? More in the north, or is it in the south? Anyone who knows a little about Germany will have no problem putting the location maps in the right place. And if you don't know your way around, you will surely learn a thing or two from "Buxtehude, of all places". Because it's actually not so much about putting the cards in the right place. The main thing is that the other players believe that they are correct. Well bluffed is half the battle here! If a wrong card is questioned, however, it has consequences ... In the newly designed edition, more cards are added.
