Product Description

Dinos & Your bones - card game (DE), for 2+ players, ages 6+

The latest edition of our popular memory games deals with primeval times: The dinosaurs are on the loose and are looking for their skeletons! During the game you learn exciting facts about each dinosaur - for example, which of them had feathers (and how that proves that they are descended from birds) and what the spines on the Triceratops skull are good for. Everything we know about dinosaurs today comes from the discovery of their bones and fossils. The author Paul Upchurch as a specialist in the field of paleontology is responsible for the correctness of the information.

The perfect game for dinosaur experts big and small!
