Product Description

DSA Romane - Song of the Seven Spheres - Pardona II (DE edition)

The high elves are at war. Several of their cities have already fallen to the dragon god Pyrdacor. After the end of their old companions, the warriors Israni suicidally turns against the hordes of the enemy. She learns of a prophecy that speaks of salvation from beyond the stars. From an elf destined to return when Pyrdacor falls. Israni embarks on a quest to cross the seven spheres and finally reach the lower hells - while Aventuria is torn apart by the war of the dragons.

The Pardona trilogy tells the story of one of Aventuria's most famous evil characters over a period of 5,000 years, revealing that all of their deeds served a higher purpose. The series leads through the aventurian story as an epic story unfolds, making it very suitable for those new to the world of the black eye.

Warning! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
