Product Description

The Almanac: Free Role Play Day 2020, 228 pages (DE edition)

The eighth free role play day will take place on March 14, 2020. In order to strengthen the German-speaking role-play scene and to bring pen-and-paper role-play more into the limelight, events are taking place in many places.

In order to provide newbies and veterans alike with delicacies at the gaming table, several German-speaking RPG publishers and suppliers of accessories have teamed up again this year. Thanks to new and old participants, Pegasus Spiele is able to present the players with an almanac for 2020 that is thicker than ever!

On these pages you will find exciting adventures and useful game aids for a wide variety of systems - supplemented by system-independent material that the players can use in their rounds as they please. You can expect publications for the following role play systems or from the following providers (in alphabetical order):

- Beyond the Wall
- Cthulhu
- Dungeonfog
- Fallen World
- Midgard
- Private Eye
- Shadowrun
- Shard Moon

Warning! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
