Product Description

Cyberpunk Red Dice Set - Blood over Chrome (7 pieces)

The world has collapsed, Corporations won and thrown their weight around. All that is left is a sense of style, your wire necessary for surviving and toys like guns and these dice set. That is your little helper on your way through Night City and remember, one roll can change all, even make you the cyber-hero from zero!

Howdy Cyberpunks and Wannabe Punks! So it seems that the world collapsed, Corporations won and threw their weight around. All that is left are your sense of style, some wire necessary for surviving and toys like the guns and this dice set. Those dice are your teammates on the journey through Night City, where one roll can change it all. This set will be your new talisman, lucky charm or unique game rig. In the Night City it doesn't matter where you are from and what drives you, because your style and panache (toughness and vindictiveness too) are all that counts. Now you're one of us and this set of black polyhedrons will be your pass to new ventures in the world where everything comes to an end, morality and forgiveness are forgotten; where, on the other hand, the wheels are the fastest, bullets are the cheapest in history and a good fixer can fix everything for right amount of cash.

We in Q WORKSHOP paint them red - if you know what it means... Red paint in elaborated ornaments of course! There's no time for discussion about it! Focus on the defense, because this is war and dice with sophisticated background, stylized as circuit boards, can be your last chance for surviving. Die with dignity, not in vain using casual styleless dice. This set can be your friend - the only friend that supports your choices! Look at them and live like there is no tomorrow and Trauma Team will not arrive in time!

Live goes on and Cyberpunk 2020 is only old glorious history. Therefore Cyberpunk Red is newer and made better than anything in the past. This is a real upgrade! There's one thing that didn't change - the most important rule in Night City: you must shine with your own light. That might be terribly difficult tho, because there are many douchebags biting their claws who are longing for your place. There are many mirror-like, cloned guys and lasses that want to be something more, something better and posher. This is the truth of Cyberpunk - style over substance, envy before reason. You shine or you go away, Night City doesn't need losers and cowards. Typical dice are for all these little simpletons that rob markets and are real amusing Piglets - fluffy, cute and dying quickly.

You must be different, you're a cyberpunk - more than an ordinary human being that has typical Red in veins and Chromium outside, with fancy cyber wire and flashy guns. That is why you should be classy like "Man in Red", donning the most noble black bulletproof suit that you could find, and with your veins filled with real cold chromium for quick decisions in firefights. Only chrome can give you the power to be cold as stone and dangerous as live quicksilver. Therefore, our dice are black and red, like the essence of Cyberpunk you can find inside. Have a great night in the Night City!

Caution! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
