Product Description

Dwarves dice set, grey and black (7 pieces)

A set of the rarest and most beautiful artefacts left by Quentin the Inventor. They were polished by a mythical dwarf smith, so they still have their original white colour. These dice are filled with dwarven features. Let them roll! Dice readable like never before!

Dwarves are usually associated with stocky, bearded people who love gold, beer and juggling hammers. Originally, they come from the Viking sagas. They were created thanks to the will of the gods from the tiny bones of the dead giant Ymir, while the rest of his skeleton became the building material of the world we know. They are brothers of the mountains and in reality born from the bones of the earth itself. Our cubes are made in a similar way. We grind the best Nordic giant bones we have in stock and then melt them down to produce a raw material worthy of the craftsmanship of the dwarves. Dwarves are known as the best blacksmiths and jewellers. They also deal with the magic of objects. From their workshops come the greatest treasures and the best weapons in the entire known world of the North. It was they who forged the weapons of the gods, so our dice cannot be ordinary. They must always be perfected, just as the dwarves are always searching for the perfect forms enchanted in metal and stone. This set must be as strong as the bearded people and as beautiful in its usefulness as the most perfect product of dwarven craftsmanship. We decided on an elaborate engraving, with the numbers and weapon symbols more prominent and the fine "labyrinth" of lines forming a background. In this way we have obtained dice worthy of the dwarves and their creations.

Each colour combination of our dice is a tribute to one of the works of the dwarves from the sagas. We want your characters, such as Odin, Freya, Thor and others, to have adventures worthy of the skaldic songs. All Norse gods and heroes used items forged for them by dwarves. It was the wonders of the dwarves that helped them to accomplish their exploits and let them get out of even the greatest difficulties. They were their treasures, and without them it would have been much more difficult. Our dice have the same goal: to help defeat enemies, achieve success and then gladden the heart. These are dice for heroes - tough, beautiful and useful in any battle or adventure that may involve a cruel fate under the guidance of the game master.

The grey and black set is made with similar technology to Gleipnir - a chain that can tame any monster, even the Great Fenrir. Just like the wolf's chains, our dice were made from the sound of cat footsteps, the female beard, the roots of mountains and the breath of fish. All this gave our set the ability to go beyond the properties of ordinary dice. They were supposed to help you pass any make sure the successful execution of all plans. Just like Gleipnir, they should be almost indestructible and effective and last until Ragnarok.

Caution! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
