Product Description

Dwarf beige and black dice set (7 pieces).

A set of the rarest and most beautiful artefacts left by Quentin the Inventor. They were polished by a mythical dwarven blacksmith, so they still have their original white colour. These dice are filled with dwarven features. Let them roll ! Dice readable like never before !

Dwarves are usually associated with stocky, bearded people who love gold, beer and juggling hammers. Originally, they come from the Viking sagas. They were created thanks to the will of the gods from the tiny bones of the dead giant Ymir, while the rest of his skeleton became the building material of the world we know. They are the brothers of the mountains and are in fact born from the bones of the earth itself. Our cubes are made in a similar way. We grind the best Nordic giant bones we have in stock and then melt them down to produce a raw material worthy of the dwarves' craftsmanship. Dwarves are known as the best blacksmiths and jewellers. They also deal with the magic of objects. From their workshops come the greatest treasures and the best weapons in the entire known world of the North. It was they who forged the weapons of the gods, so our dice cannot be ordinary. They must always be perfected, just as the dwarves are always searching for the perfect forms enchanted in metal and stone. This set must be as strong as the bearded people and as beautiful in its usefulness as the most perfect product of dwarven craftsmanship. We decided on an elaborate engraving, with the numbers and weapon symbols more prominent and the fine "labyrinth" of lines forming a background. In this way we have obtained dice worthy of the dwarves and their creations.

Each colour combination of our dice is a tribute to one of the works of the dwarves from the sagas. We want your characters, such as Odin, Freya, Thor and others, to have adventures worthy of the skaldic songs. All Norse gods and heroes used items forged for them by dwarves. It was the wonders of the dwarves that helped them to accomplish their exploits and let them get out of even the greatest difficulties. They were their treasures, and without them it would have been much more difficult. Our dice have the same goal: to help defeat enemies, achieve success and then gladden the heart. These are dice for heroes - tough, beautiful and useful in any battle or adventure that may involve a cruel fate under the guidance of the game master.

The beige and black set is full of dice modelled on Skíþblaðnir, the best of the Drakkars in all mythologies. A friendly wind always blew in its sails and there was plenty of room for booty and comrades-in-arms. This ship was not afraid of shoals. You could fold it up and put it in a pocket. It was a perfect ship and belonged to Frey, the god of fertility and all the joys of life. Do we need to explain further why these cubes are a "MUST HAVE"?

Caution. Not suitable for children under 36 months.
