Product Description

Forest Dice Set: Savannah (7 pieces)

New dice, with the power of the ancient forest. Found in the limbs of the giant oak that filled it with its power and knowledge. These cubes have witnessed a great battle of the Ents, which over the years has caused them to almost melt into the environment.

These are forest dice for those who believe that the stories of their long game are worth taking a lot of time to tell and listen to. We designed these dice as our ultimate masterfully crafted gift for the Elf King and his Wild Hunt. They provided us with many secret ingredients which we added to the barrels (detailed information can be found in the other product descriptions). Dealing with this cruel elf lord from the faraway land is not easy, for only the best can meet the needs of the fierce master of wild beasts from the depths of the European forests. We have made cubes that look remarkable, like little art nouveau sculptures with faces whose backgrounds resemble leaves and bark. Made of the best material, these polyhedra are our masterpiece in cube making. Similar sets with engraved flower garlands on entire cube faces cannot be found.

The set contains seven dice, each of a different type, from D4 to D100. It goes with any role-playing game you play, but you'll have the best experience when you use it among trees.

This set is enchanted with ancient forest magic. If you ever find a way into this mysterious realm, these dice will be your guide. These cubes are unique in our range because they are sculpted all over, on the edges and in the corners. We found the shapes in the branch of a huge old oak tree, filled with its power and knowledge. Over time, these polyhedra began to show traces of leaves, branches and tendrils, which became permanently imprinted on the surface of these cubes. We split the wood and they fell out. We believe that these matrices of cubes are real bones of the tree, born from the heartwood in which the spirit of the oak dwelt. The power of our Mother Earth is contained within these small dice to make the dice for warriors, poets, druids and all forest wizards who know the power of nature.

All sets are designed to reflect the cycle of nature with their colour scheme: Winter, Spring and Summer. If you're asking about Autumn, we're not allowed to comment because Forest Shepherds said no and we're still waiting for the licence for Red Oak Forest Dice, and as you know, the wait for ent's decisions can be very long. The Beige and Black set is dedicated to the Spring Maple, the first tree to bear leaves when everything around it is still beige and gathering strength to flower. If you have hope all the time, no matter what, these dice are best for you.

Caution! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
