Product Description

Metal Steampunk Dice Set (7)

What happens when a machine producing storm clouds over northern Scotland is overloaded...? We don't know it exactly. But we do know two things: first, you would not want to be around. Secondly, that's the way our metal steampunk dice are created!

Geomancy doesn't always go according to the plan. Nevertheless, our metal dice are to be created with dedication and risk. Metal Steampunk RPG dice cannot be simply cast in the factory of Q WORKSHOP. We must use alternative methods, so we used the power of thunders and water. We bought a machine for the production of storm clouds, built in a dice cast machine and overcharged it. Now we know two things: firstly, you would not want to be around. Secondly, that's the way our metal steampunk dice will be created! Dice were falling from the sky like hail. We couldn't keep up with collecting and packing them into our elegant boxes. Created from tin, Jupiter's metal, they are the top creation of our geomants. Then we only had to polish them and decorate with elegant symbolic cogs and wheels carvings, so that they fit into the best frock coat of our clients. They are sophisticated and effective in all games. We recommend our ladies customers a tasteful pouch for them and maybe a mechanical boy to carry them, because it's a decent metal, not some kind of empty shell.

Nothing works better for women like an elegant man in a matching three-piece suit. Well, maybe a gallant style and joie de vivre. A suit is today's knight's armor, and just as a shiny armor can have no scratches, the same goes for the suit – not a smallest spot is allowed. Grease, gasoline, ectoplasm are passé. Only dragon's blood is acceptable, and only when you have just saved the world or the desirable mademoiselle. Clothing accessories are very important too. Wyvern's shoes, silk tie from Shangri-la and Atlantis cufflinks are mostly valued, although many men have them. However, a seven-piece set of metal steampunk dice for a three-part suit is something that few men can boast of. These dice have a style, they are made of hard metal and they are a sign of character. It is not surprising that together they give a tenfold better effect. So suit up, take Steampunk Dice and good luck.

Achtung! Nicht geeignet für Kinder unter 3 Jahren, da verschluckbare Kleinteile. Erstickungsgefahr.
