Product Description

Embark on an exciting journey of discovery into the animal kingdom!

In the Encyclopedia game, you take on the roles of intrepid naturalists who help the Comte de Buffon complete his encyclopaedia of natural history.

By placing dice, you can raise money and useful seals, recruit experts for your research teams, choose animals to study or lead expeditions to other continents. You can then publish your research results to impress the public and increase your reputation. Whoever has the most reputation at the end wins the game.

Encyclopedia scores with beautiful and varied illustrations. This limited first edition also includes the Sepultus Creatura mini-expansion.
