Product Description

The new deduction game from the makers of The Resistance!

Mordred's vast army of evil has brought Arthur's forces to the brink of defeat. The future of Britain hangs in the balance. Send brave heroes on a series of quests to change the balance in favour of your party. Teams must be chosen quickly and without voting. Powerful magic and amulets aid Arthur's forces, but Mordred's minions also have their ways.... The players take on secret roles that determine whether they belong to good or evil. They discuss, argue, and lie to determine who they send on the quest. If there is even one of Mordred's henchmen, the quest may fail. Quest contains 18 different characters and can be played with 4 to 10 players.
