Product Description

With this entertaining memory game, you can train your memory skills while playing. A colour is hidden under each playing piece. This colour is only revealed when the piece is pulled out of the board. The colour die determines which colour you have to find. However, if a piece with the wrong colour is pulled out of the board, it must be put back and it is the next player's turn. This means that your memory is required throughout the game. Remember the wrongly drawn colours well to be able to score points in the next round.
