Product Description

The fast-paced pocket game enriches the popular series of small-format game ideas that fit in every pocket and provide fun and entertainment on the go. With the clever "Word Bits", everyone with a sense for nimble combinations and creative word creations has a clear advantage. Recommended for one or more lightning thinkers aged eight and up. The rules for "Word Bits" are quickly explained: A card is turned over from the pile that names a certain category, for example "In the ocean" or "This is expensive". The card also shows how many letter cubes are being used. Now everyone has to formulate a suitable answer from the diced combinations as quickly as possible. The required letters may be used in any order and, of course, supplemented with other letters.

In order to score points in this fast-paced competition, a good feeling for language and a quick ability to combine words will definitely help. The first person to name a valid word receives the current card and starts a new round - and the next category card with newly diced letters.

Depending on time, desire and mood, the players themselves decide how many of the 60 cards of the different categories they want to play with. In the recommended variant with 20 cards, a game lasts about 15 minutes. "Word Bits" is also suitable for a solo version: the rules remain the same, but you can also set yourself a time limit and keep trying to beat your personal high score.

Attention: not suitable for children under 36 months!
