Product Description

Most Free People forces arm and armour themselves with whatever they can make on the way to battle or from armour of their fallen enemies. The Thenn warriors are different. They have forged their own bronze weapons and armour, making them the most heavily armed troops in the Free People's army. The A Song of Ice & Fire - Thenn Warriors unit box gives Free People commanders arguably their strongest troops on the battlefield. Their reinforced armour gives them a sense of invulnerability, allowing them to taunt their enemies, thus directing enemy attacks towards themselves rather than other units in the army.
