Product Description

After the discovery of hyperspace jumps in 2246, a new sense of unity and purpose pervades the entire solar system. To seize the favour of the hour, the factions in power must position themselves quickly. Those who want to stay ahead in the race to colonise the galaxy need capable leaders.

Thanks to the Omniweb Engine, a data-mining network that tracks the entire population in the solar system, each faction can find candidates that fit their needs to a tee - both for domestic politics and the military. Can your faction find leaders with the perfect blend of political acumen and military assertiveness and leave the others behind?

Leaders of the New Dawn is the first expansion for Beyond the Sun. You can expect new content for the base game, the Leaders module for even more game depth and a challenging solo mode!
