Product Description

The floor model is a recreation of the Zündapp KS750 motorbike sidecar. The Zündapp had a total production of 18,000 units and was considered one of the most modern achievements of the time in the field of motorbike construction due to its structure, which guaranteed easy and economical handling. Due to its exceptional characteristics, the Zündapp could follow the armoured units of the Wehrmacht and the Waffen-SS and escort them to all areas of operation, especially to Russia, as the sidecar was even equipped with heating for the man's hands and feet. Zündapps were distributed to all units of the armed forces, only after 1943 they were replaced by all-wheel drive vehicles.
