Product Description

A game of harmony and beauty. Here you place colourful stones and create a stunning work of art. But even if you all work together to create the mandala, there can only be one winner. Skilfully move the collectors around the board to collect stones and form stacks. Then wait for the right moment to build the mandala, because only perfect timing will earn you the winning harmony points.

Once it's your turn, you have to choose 1 of 2 possible actions: GATHER or VALUE.

When collecting, you move one of four collectors and take the top stone, the so-called head stone, from each of the adjacent stone stacks. However, these can also be blocked by the other collectors and the symbols of the stones and collectors also play an important role. Collect the stones that are important for you and block attractive piles for your fellow players.

When scoring, you have the choice between a colour score and a capstone score. Get points for the height of the stone stacks in your playing area, for different colours or give away stones to convert them into harmony points.

No matter which type of scoring you have chosen in your turn:

Afterwards, you remove the head stones of all scored piles and place them one by one in any order on the spiral of the mandala map. There are more harmony points to be won. The race for victory remains exciting until the end, because at the end each of you shows one of your scoring cards, which gives you more harmony points.

Who will contribute the most to the work of art and prevent their fellow players from creating important passages? Become the master of the Mandala Stones!
