Product Description

The floor model is a replica of the Panzerwerfer 42 or also known as the mule. The use of several rocket launchers by German forces during World War II was quite extensive due to the low cost and high efficiency of these weapon systems. The main inconvenience of these vehicles was their low mobility, which made them vulnerable to enemy counterattacks. Thus, this mobile version of a 150-mm Type 42 rocket launcher was mounted on an Sd.Kfz with a half truck. 4 mule, which guaranteed high mobility in the field. The vehicle was equipped with armour plating to protect its crew.
