Product Description

The floor model is a replica of the Volvo FH4 Globetrotter XL. In terms of development and technology, the Volvo FH is the highest expression of the well-known brand for commercial and industrial vehicles. The modern and eye-catching design has been developed to optimise aerodynamics, as well as to minimise fuel consumption and ensure the highest standards of operating efficiency. The cabin has been designed to ensure the highest active and passive safety standards. The vehicle is also equipped with advanced driver assistance and risk prevention systems. The Globetrotter XL cab is the ideal solution for two people and offers better visibility thanks to its increased height. In 2014, the Volvo FH4 won the "International Truck of the Year" award, presented by a pool of journalists from the most important European truck magazines.
