Product Description

The Citroen Traction 7C Cabriolet in sensational 1:35 scale is another set that relates to the history of the automotive industry! The use of elements specially adapted to the needs of vehicles makes the COBI models very attractive and contains many surprising details. Particularly noteworthy are precise prints instead of the previously used stickers. The Citroen Traction is a convertible that also has a cleverly positioned couch thanks to the opening boot. The unique bright colour of the bodywork, used for the first time, perfectly enlivens the collection of historic cars. The set includes a figure of the owner of the car with a dog. The whole set is rounded off by a sign with the vehicle name and the historic Citroen logo. Up to 199 elements and intuitive instructions are the recipe for an easy and enjoyable build. The model is aimed at car enthusiasts of all ages. It can become a display piece for an adult collector and decorate a young person's room. More experienced COBI builders will certainly want to expand the vehicle further on their own. Build a story, block by block!

Citroen is a French recognised car manufacturer since 1919, founded by engineer André Gustave Citroën who, while travelling through Poland, acquired a patent for a process to make a machine to machine roof gears. The brand's logo still presents a roof gear to this day. Cars of the Traction Avant family pioneered the mass production of three revolutionary features that are still in use today: a single body with no separate frame, independent suspension and front-wheel drive played a key role in the development of the automotive world.
