Product Description

The SR-71, with its impressive and unorthodox shape, is the younger sister of the U-2 (No. 808) with the crucial difference that it was built with the requirement to perform its duties at MACH 3.5. The U.S. Strategic Air Command (SAC) has announced that the BLACKBIRD still holds the speed record. It can fly over the U.S. in less than an hour. The SR-71 aircraft have been used in every trouble spot on earth. They flew over Cuba, China, Vietnam, the Middle East etc. at times of international crisis or local conflict. They also operated from Okinawa, Thailand and the Philippines. The SR-71 is the most sophisticated spy plane of today.
