Product Description

Experience the legendary RMS Titanic in an unprecedented dimension with this challenging and detailed 1:400 scale model kit. This impressive model not only features 262 parts and a length of 670 mm, but also individually tuned electronic components that can be integrated directly into the kit for a realistic ship feel.

The LED lighting for the hull, navigation and position lights gives the model a special atmosphere, while the pre-programmed sound module with authentic ship sounds provides an impressive listening experience. The control unit allows realistic scenarios to be displayed and the battery box (4x 1.5 V AA batteries, not included) powers all electronic components.

The detailed hull with textured planking, lifeboats and davits as well as stairways give the model a high level of detail and authenticity. The detailed decals with decorative stripes complete the appearance of the model and let the RMS Titanic shine in all her glory.

The RMS Titanic - Engineering Model in 1:400 scale is perfect for modelling enthusiasts aged 14 and over who are fascinated not only by the historical significance of the ship, but also by the engineering that brings this model to life. The kit offers hours of building and crafting fun and is an excellent addition to any model ship collection.
