Product Description

The 1932 Ford 5 Window Coupé has two door windows, two sidewall windows and a rear window and is one of the most popular street rod contenders. The '32 Ford, usually referred to as the "Deuce", is the perfect hot rod because the original '32s were popular and produced in large numbers. In addition, the model was readily available between the 1940s and 1960s. Due to the high demand, these cars are now sought-after and very expensive collector's items.
