Product Description

The Bismarck, the flagship of the German navy, was the largest German warship alongside the Tirpitz and had a displacement of 50,900 t and a crew of 2,092. Commissioned on 24.08.1940, she sailed on 18.05.1941 for Operation Rhine Exercise. Together with the Prinz Eugen, however, she was discovered early by British air reconnaissance. During the encounter with the Hood, the latter was sunk by the Bismarck on 24.05.1941. After a long pursuit, she received an aircraft torpedo hit on 26.05.1941 and was placed by the British battleships King George V and H.M.S. Rodney. On 27.05. her own crew sank the Bismarck 490 km off the French coast.
