Product Description

The StuG IV armoured fighting vehicle was used by the German army from 1943 to 1945. It was developed on the basis of the extremely popular Panzer IV main battle tank and perfectly supplemented the dwindling stock of German armoured weapons. The StuG IV became known as an effective tank destroyer, especially on the Eastern Front. It had a crew of four and was mainly supplied to infantry divisions. A total of around 1,140 units of this vehicle were built. The StuG IV block model was developed on a large scale of 1:28 from 952 elements and measures 24.5 cm in length. The size of the model made it possible to reproduce details of the vehicle interior and to design a beautiful block camouflage. The model provides access to the service hatch, under which there is a removable engine. Other functionalities include: the cannon, which can also be moved sideways, access to hatches for the crew and working tracks. The model uses only high quality, durable prints. The model offers many hours of exciting building and will become a standout piece in your historical collection! This is further proof of the possibilities of high quality block modelling! Build history piece by piece with COBI!
