Product Description

We have designed a 1:35 scale model of the German heavy armoured car Sd.Kfz 234/3 STUMMEL from 438 elements. After construction, the stub is 18 cm long and its size matches both the figures and other vehicles that we publish in this scale. The vehicle impresses with its very neat design, camouflage and decals, which make it a very important item in the COBI Historical Collection. There are no stickers here, we only use permanent prints. The vehicle has movable elements such as wheels and a cannon. The set includes two figures representing a member of the armoured car crew and a German soldier with prints on the back. The entire set is complemented by a sign with the vehicle name. The set is not only a must-have for young history buffs, but especially for adult collectors and fans of military technology. Build history, brick by brick! Sd. Kfz. The 234/3 Stummel is a German armoured wheeled vehicle that was used in the Second World War. It was equipped with a 75 mm cannon with a reserve of 50 rounds, which made it effective against other armoured vehicles and lightly armoured targets. The car had a Tatra 103 diesel engine and reached a remarkable top speed of up to 90 km/h. It performed almost as well off-road. Off-road, it performed almost as well as tracked vehicles. This infantry support vehicle was produced in a small number of about 88 units.
