Product Description

One of the most famous aeroplanes of the Second World War. Designed and mass-produced in the USSR from 1941. Production of subsequent versions of the Il-2 was completed only a few years after the war. A total of around 36,000 of these aircraft were built. The first versions struggled with many problems and were replaced in 1942-43 by Il-2 aircraft with a crew of two, more powerful engines and reinforced armament. This model features the original wing arrangement, which is completely different from the slightly later IL-2M3 model, where they were given a more aggressive angle of attack. In the West, the aircraft was given the popular name "Shturmovik". The Il-2 aircraft was designed from 1:32 scale COBI building blocks using new elements. The block model offers many movable elements such as a rotating propeller, movable wing ailerons or wheels with rubber tyres that can be folded into a horizontal position. Details and historic winter camouflage have been reproduced. The blue underside of the aircraft attracts attention. The cockpit, whose canopy has been redesigned, can be opened to accommodate the pilot and gunner figures on the seats. The whole set looks great thanks to a special presentation stand with a sign with the name of the aircraft and a place to attach the figures! The model uses durable prints and historical markings. The set completes the collection of World War II aircraft in 1:32 scale and is aimed at lovers of history, military technology and enthusiasts of block models of the highest quality!
