Product Description

UGEARS marble run, 400 pieces, 3D puzzle

What actually makes marble runs so appealing? Children (and adults!) can watch for hours as the marbles roll along a course, overcoming various obstacles. Marble runs are fascinating, attract our attention and yet have a relaxing effect. Marble runs or marble runs have become an unexpected YouTube phenomenon, with thousands of videos receiving millions of views. You choose the marble you want to watch and cheer for, wonder which way it will go, try to put yourself in its place and imagine taking that glass ball on a wonderful journey into the unknown, with twists, turns and surprises waiting around every corner. And the excitement is even greater when you have built this marble run yourself. Now you're not passively watching a video, you're fully involved because you've created this amazing device with your own hands.

The marble run is a modular model that can be connected to other marble runs using special connectors (included) (2 or 4 models can be connected in pairs). Connect two chain tracks at the front or four (front and side) to create a system of chain hoists and tracks. We hear that Ugears is planning more versions of this marble run. It remains exciting. Have fun building!
