Product Description

Star Wars Jedi: The Light Side of the Force fights as a rebellion with X-Wing spaceships.

The new Star Wars plastic model kits for gluing and painting now offer model fans aged 10 and over even more crafting fun.

This is the most important fighter of the Rebel Alliance and one of the most powerful single-seat Star Wars spaceships ever produced. The T-65 X-wing fighter gets its name from its stacked dual wings, which form an X in combat missions to increase the pilot's firing range. In addition to four high-end laser cannons, the X-wing fighter has proton torpedoes, deflector shields, hyperdrive and a navigation droid. Luke Skywalker favoured this type of fighter. It was used by the young Jedi to destroy the first Death Star in the Battle of Yavin. The X-wing fighter quickly proved to be one of the most effective military vehicles in the galaxy. The T-65's unusual wing design is often credited as the starship's recipe for success. The twin pairs of wings remain closed during normal flight below the speed of light. In combat and when entering a planet's atmosphere, they can be extended. At the wingtips are high-energy laser cannons that can be fired individually, simultaneously, in pairs or in other combinations. The Star Wars model spaceship is perfect for all small and big Star Wars fans.
