Product Description

For smooth communicationThe marshals and their flags serve as a means of communication between the race organisers and the riders. Each flag colour has a different meaning and applies worldwide. In the event of danger, for example, the yellow flag is waved. It signals to the drivers to slow down and not to overtake. If the green flag is shown, the danger is over and you can accelerate again. As you can see, the track marshals are an important part of every race and should of course not be missing on your Carrera track. The figure set impresses with its detailed finish and consists of a total of five figures. The figures have body parts that can be positioned or rotated in different ways and provide more life and "real" attention to detail on the racetrack.
