Product Description

Welcome to the island kingdom of Aeolos! The ruler of the winds has invited you to a competition with other sailors. Whoever receives the most recognition in Olympus will be accepted into the alliance of the gods as a favourite. But don't forget: when sailing, you are dependent on the capricious winds of the mighty Aeolos. Just like the legendary Odysseus, make sure your windsock is always well filled. In seven harbours, you have to establish settlements, build ships and collect sacred crystals. Sail your ships upriver to the temples of the winds to make sacrifices. Or send your prophet on a journey over the sacred mountain so that he can call upon Olympus and tell of your great deeds. By skilfully combining sailing cards, your ships can set off on their journey. Your windsock fills up along the way. Use it wisely and keep an eye on the other sailors - because on the Isles of the Winds you are constantly battling against the clock.
