Product Description

The Ford Capri was not only a popular vehicle on public roads - the race track was also its home for a long time. The Capri was particularly successful in the German racing championship. In 1981, the Würth-Zakspeed team achieved victory in the overall standings with the Ford Capri. Klaus Ludwig won 10 of the 14 races and was the clear overall winner in the end. In 1982, the Capri was entered in 4 races before it was replaced by the successor model Ford C100. The historic classic for your racetrack. The Carrera EVOLUTION Ford Capri Zakspeed Turbo "Würth-Zakspeed-Team, No.2" on a scale of 1:32 will soon be racing around the slot racing track at home and taking its own turns. Equipped with front and rear lights, the slot car can also complete long-distance races into the dark in small format. The vehicle can also be converted to digital using a separate digital decode and offers driving fun for young and old thanks to the advanced and beginner modes. The Ford Capri impresses with ultimate racing fun for lovers of historic vehicles.
